

Marine/Aquatic Science Education Workshop for Teachers

Join us to Update the Alaska Sea/River Week Curricula

JUNE 11-22, 2007
KASITSNA BAY LABORATORY

Don't miss this opportunity to:

- Increase your content knowledge of marine/aquatic environments.
- Assist in the development of inquiry units of instruction for statewide use.
- Participate in field trips and classroom activities with visiting scientists, content experts, Alaska Science Consortium fellows, and master teachers.
- Earn credit from the University of Alaska Fairbanks.

Who: Elementary teachers

When: June 11-22, 2007

Where: Kasitsna Bay Laboratory, Seldovia

Application Deadline: March 10, 2007

The goal of this workshop is to develop three new curriculum guides for the Sea/River Week Project. These guides will be designed for use with grades 2-5.

Participating teachers will be expected to field test lessons and activities in their classrooms during the 2007-2008 school year.

Tuition, travel, food, and lodging will be provided.
Space is limited, so apply early!
