

Contents

Acknowledgments.....	iv
Agenda	1
Alaska Crab Stock Enhancement and Rehabilitation: An Introduction Bradley G. Stevens	5
Cultivation of King Crab Larvae at the Kodiak Fisheries Research Center, Kodiak, Alaska Sara Persselin	9
Red King Crab (Paralithodes camtschaticus) Reproduction and Cultivation in Artificial Conditions in Russia Nikolina P. Kovatcheva	15
King Crab Cultivation and Stock Enhancement in Japan and the United States: A Brief History Bradley G. Stevens	23
Improving the Survival of Cultivated and Released Juveniles Gro I. van der Meeren	33
Cultivation Potential of Golden King Crab, Lithodes aequispinus Thomas C. Shirley	47
Basis for Stock Enhancement of Lithodes santolla in Argentina Gustavo A. Lovrich and Federico Tapella	55
Cultivation of Lithodes santolla in Chile: Advances in the Last Six Years Using Multiple Approaches in Puerto Montt, Chile Kurt Paschke, Paulina Gebauer, and Tanja Hausen	65
Lobster (Homarus americanus) Enhancement Project in the Southwestern Gulf of St. Lawrence, Canada Michel Comeau	71
Is It Possible to Enhance King Crab Populations in Alaska? Bradley G. Stevens	79