

Contents

Introduction to the Forum.....	1
Reid Brewer
Acknowledgments	3
Forum Agenda	4
An Introduction to Coastal Monitoring	6
Sherry Tamone
Kachemak Bay CoastWalk: Twenty-One Years of Observing Changing Shores	11
Marilyn Sigman and Bree Murphy
The Coastal Observation and Seabird Survey Team— Citizens Monitoring Coastal Environmental Health in Alaska	21
Kate Litle, Julia K. Parrish, and Jane Dolliver
Seabird Monitoring on Alaska Maritime National Wildlife Refuge	39
Vernon Byrd
LiMPETS: Long-Term Monitoring Program and Experiential Training for Students.....	46
Dawn A. Osborn, John S. Pearse, and Christy A. Roe
Mapping and Monitoring Shorelines: Utilizing a Spatially Nested Geophysical Shoreline Partitioning Model to Increase the Statistical Power to Detect Change.....	56
G. Carl Schoch and Megan N. Dethier
Marine Debris in Alaska	63
Bob King

The Alaska Coastal Management Program.....	70
Karol Kolehmainen
Alaska Department of Environmental Conservation’s Environmental Monitoring and Assessment Program (EMAP): Relevance to Alaskans	77
Doug Dasher
Community-Based Water Quality Monitoring: Keeping Alaskans Involved in Clean Water Protection.....	84
Sue Mauger
Extending the Functionality of the Consumer-Grade GPS for More Efficient GIS and Mapping Applications	91
R.M. Mikol
2006 Alaska Green Crab Monitoring Program.....	100
Dan Gilson
Speakers.....	106