

Contents

Author Biographies.....	v
Acknowledgments.....	vi
What Is a Cooperative?	1
How can a cooperative help a seafood operation?
Description of a cooperative
Types of cooperatives
Comparing Cooperatives with Other Businesses	6
When to form a cooperative
Similarities among cooperatives, LLCs, and S corporations
Differences among cooperatives, LLCs, and S corporations
Look for yourself!
Pros and Cons of Choosing the Cooperative Business Option	12
Benefits of a cooperative
Drawbacks of a cooperative
Examples of Cooperatives in Fisheries and Agriculture	17
Alaska seafood cooperatives
Agricultural cooperatives
Successful cooperatives expand
Starting a Seafood Cooperative	23
Compelling reason
Develop the core support
Prepare a business plan
File articles of incorporation and bylaws
Determine board of directors
Draft a membership agreement
Hire a management team

Managing a Cooperative	27
Profit and democracy
Know your business!
Build consensus
Running the organization
Managing
Conclusion
Making Sense of Cooperative Taxation	31
How cooperative accounting is different— surplus earnings vs. profit
IRS Subchapter T
Help with accounting and taxes
New Generation Cooperatives	35
The problem of raising capital
The new generation solution
Differences between NGCs and traditional cooperatives
Setting up an NGC	