

KODIAK AREA MARINE SCIENCE SYMPOSIUM

COMMUNICATING OCEAN SCIENCE WORKSHOP

Saturday, April 9 2-5 PM
Fisherman's Hall

A workshop for scientists, educators, and anyone involved in science communication.

Learn effective strategies for communicating science to diverse audiences, including

- your local community,
- K-12 teachers and students,
- “informally” on field trips, ecotours, or to visitors to museums or aquaria
- journalists
- policy makers

You will be actively engaged in practicing with effective communication tools.

This workshop can provide great guidance for finalizing your science conference presentation!

Presenter: Marilyn Sigman, Alaska Sea Grant
